

what we do

CFO Advisory Council

WCPSS Superintendent Tony Tata calls upon the Council to discuss budget proposals and financial operations issues within the school district. The Council provides insight to “best financial practices” from the business sector applied in a public education environment to generate cost savings and operating efficiencies.

Cultural Awareness/Communication (Pieces of Gold & Gifts of Gold)

The Partnership believes that the arts are a core component of student achievement. Exploration of culture and language helps students communicate effectively and work collaboratively. This spring event showcases exemplary artistic talent by students throughout the Wake County Public School System.

Education Resource Collaborative

The Education Resource Collaborative provides an avenue for nonprofits in Wake County to be knowledgeable of the work others are doing to support education. This enables collaboration to promote “best practices” in our classrooms and professional development for teachers and school leaders.

Education Summit

This year’s summit focuses on local, state, and national efforts to close the global achievement gap and prepare students for the current and future competitive workforce.

Excellence In Action

The Partnership coordinates learning walks to highlight schools making use of best practices in Wake County. This program provides an opportunity for the business community and policy makers to see best practice at work in Wake County classrooms.

Executive Breakfast Series

Local business executives attend these sessions designed to provide information on current education issues, and identify concerns of business leaders who have an interest in a world-class school system.

In Context Newsletter

Our bi-weekly e-publication highlights current education news relevant to Wake County. Topics primarily cover local education issues but also include the state and national level. In Context also provides coverage of the WCPSS Board of Education.

Public Education Advisory Council

Previous recipients of the Principal, Assistant Principal, and Teacher of the Year awards in WCPSS are invited to participate. This group provides insight and real-time, in-the-trenches perspective on the Partnership’s work.

Public Education Topic Reviews

Topic reviews focus on education issues of interest to the community. They are longer than newsletter summaries and allow readers to understand a subject in greater depth. They are published on our website and released to our email list.

Teacher Leadership Grants

These grants provide opportunities for teachers to challenge themselves and their students in new and exciting ways. Current focus of Teacher Leadership Grants supports the work of professional learning teams and innovative instruction projects.

Wake Education Partnership Monthly Newsletter

The Partnership produces a monthly e-newsletter that highlights Partnership news.

Wake Leadership Institute

The Partnership provides candidate forums for those interested in running for the Wake County Public School System Board of Education and Wake County Commission. They provide candidates with the history, profile and trends of the Wake County Public School System.
